

provided cheerfully to the needs to the poor and to reach the unreached nations of the world. They have no desire to finance the ambitions of men to build empires and monuments disguised as God's will.

They will have disdain for sin and love holy lives without being self-righteous toward those who struggle with the weaknesses of the flesh but serve them as Jesus served the sinner.

They will have no Savior but Jesus, no Lord and King but Jesus, for He is their great High priest and Shepherd. He will therefore be the leader of all corporate activities, gatherings and meetings. He will be in the midst all church gatherings to preside regardless of their size, their location or whether professional ministers are present or not present.

They will rely on the Holy Spirit to teach them and reveal all truth to them as he ministers to them through one another by his giftings and his ever present anointing in all believers.

They will respect those who are mature in the faith without promoting them to positions of superiority and rulership, but serve with them equally as priests of the most high God, never creating a separate class of disciples.

They will have no tolerance for any institution or organization that would hinder them from doing any of the above and we would see real revival as never before!

Can you dream with me? Let's make this dream come true and start living this way one follower of Jesus at a time!

God Bless You!

Don Serves as Missions Track Facilitator – House2Harvest Network is Launched!

Earlier this month I had the opportunity to facilitate the Missions Track at the 2008 National House Church Conference held in Dallas Texas. I was teamed up with my good friend Steve Lyzenga. The event was very successful! I wrote up a summary of what transpired and posted it on the House2Harvest Missions Weblog. You can go to the web site and read it at:

The conference ended with a roundtable to discuss the launch of a new ministry that Steve and I are working on called House2Harvest Network. About 15 leaders attended the roundtable discussion and there was tremendous support to start this ministry to serve House/Simple Church Networks. We are now in the process of getting this ministry out of our heads and on to the drawing board, hopefully up and running very soon.

Web Designer Needed – If you know of someone who is willing to donate their time to help us with a state of the art website have them contact me (dr@goasianetwork.org). Thanks!
